Additional Information

- Anyone with an interest in educational psychology is invited to apply.
- No student will be denied admission based upon race, gender, disability, age, religion, sexual orientation, culture, ethnicity, or national origin.
- Know that certification as a Registered Behavior Technician (RBT) and Board Certified Assistant Behavior Analyst (BCaBA) requires a criminal background check. Moreover, many human service organizations and agencies further require a criminal background check before entering field placements (practicum). More information and assistance will be provided during your first year in the program.
